LOUIS J. STELLMAN

With the departure of Harold Ickes from official life in Washington there went perhaps the last of an almost extinct type of American statesman: one who formed his opinions on a basis of simple right or wrong and wasn't afraid to say what he thought. They were naturally upsetting in a pattern of government which believes it necessary now and then to wink at small transgressions.

Such a case was the reputed effort of one Edwin Pauley to seduce the Interior Secretary by an offer of campaign funds for exemption from a federal law suit. Pauley represents the Californian off-shore oil men who, naturally, object to confiscation of their properties and believe their cause is just, but realize the hazards of fighting their government. So, apparently, they sent a messenger to Mr. Ickes in the hope of effecting a trade and Mr. Pauley, not dreaming that he would be nominated Under-secretary of the Navy, said his friends had several hundred thousand dollars to assist a Democratic victory at the polls, especially if they didn't have to spend it all on litigation.

In this gesture he was following a formula well known to politicians great and small. Franklin Roosevelt, Winston Churchill and Josef Stalin used it at Yalta and Teheran. Labor and Management is playing it for all it is worth on many different fronts. I doubt if there are twenty politicians in the country who have not, at some time, dallied with such tactics to improve bad situations.

Even Mr. Ickes, though, allegedly, he spurned the offer, managed to conceal the shock it must have given him. Only when the President sent Pauley's nomination to the Senate, did he manage to remember.

None of which excuses Mr. Pauley. His dilemma seems to lie less in the moral dereliction we assume he has committed, in accordance with time-honored precedent, than in the opportunity he presented for flaunting another's moral virtue and the simultaneous discredit of Administration forces. His case was incidental to a party schism and whether or not he receives Congressional endorsement is of small importance beside the airing of dirty linen which will be "duck soup for the Republican party.

Personally, I think he smells a little of the crude oil and the cruder methods of his crowd; too much for elevation to a high, important office in the cabinet—for no one doubts that he is being groomed to head the Navy. And most of us are likely to accept the word of Mr. Ickes in a dispute over the events concerned. But I dare say Pauley feels a little as I used to do in school when someone told the teacher I was reading a dime novel inside my geography.

James Mackie Killed Instantly In 17-Car Bayshore Smash-up

A menlo Park man, James Mackie, 47, 1025 South Lemon street, was fatally injured and died yesterday at South San Francisco hospital and his wife, Jean Mackie, is in the hospital with a possible skull fracture as a result of an automobile accident on Bayshore highway, south of Brisbane, in which 17 cars were involved.

The 500-foot stretch of highway was smeared with blood and covered with wreckage and within a 10-minute period, five automobiles had crashed and piled up on the highway.

Mr. Mackie swerved his northbound car to avoid an automobile which had stopped suddenly in front of his because of a three-car collision farther ahead. Mr. Mackie's car collided head-on with a southbound truck driven by Robert Francesconi of San Francisco, and skidded out of control throwing Mr. and Mrs. Mackie onto the highway.

So numerous were the accidents involved in the melee that police were hampered in securing names of drivers. The accident occured at 8:40 a.m.

Fritjof Thygeson Wins Lions Contest

at Sequoia high school, last week was judged winner of the Fourth District Lions Student Speakers Contest on the topic "My Responsibility As a Young American to Lasting World Peace." Originality, forcefulness, and logic were the outstanding characteristics of this winning talk, which was delivered with convincing sincerity and the poise of a veteran. Thygeson is 16 years old, a member of Sequoia public speaking class. The contest was his first experience in competitive public speaking. He won over two students, who participated in the contest, and thus becomes the Menlo Park Lions Club's official representative at the Zone contest and if declared the winner of this contest, he will participate in the regional contest. Should he win the regional contest and district contest, Thygeson will represent the local club at the Inter-state finals to be held in June in connection with the Fourth District Lions Annual Convention, at which time the prize will consist of $350 scholarship to an accredited college or university.

The winner, Fritjof Thygeson, will be presented with a plaque by the Menlo Park Lions Club in recognition of his achievement.

Other speakers were Frances Lusk and George Terhune Jr.

Judging the contest were Dr. Robert Rhodes, Gen. Redmond Kernan, James T. O'Keefe Jr., assisted by L. L. Johnston and the Reverend Eric Jackson.

Ramblers Defeated By California Team

The Menlo Park Ramblers were soundly trounced by the University of California rugby team in the second game of the rugby season played at Berkeley last Saturday, losing 17 to 3.

With the exception of the last 10 minutes of the game the score might well have been 6 to 3.

The first half was evenly played with the Ramblers keeping the pressure on. The Cal score came shortly after Frankel had downed the ball on the Cal one-inch line. The referee called for a scrum on the five. Cal booted clear over the head of Fasiola at fullback. Fasiola recovered and his low kick bounced off a charging California forward on the 15 into the end zone, with California falling on the ball over the goal line for a score.

The try was missed and Dick McIntosh tied the game up shortly thereafter with a lusty boot across the Cal goal, falling on the free ball as it rolled around in the end zone. Menlo missed the try and the half ended 3-3.

In the second half the lack of substitutes told on the Ramblers. Kane, Quilfelt and Eldridge were unable to make the trip leaving the Ramblers short of experienced players. Al Frankel staved off two penalty tries by his alert rushing of the kicker. During the last 10 minutes of the game, the Ramblers tired and California went on to score a lopsided victory as they ran the Rambler wing ragged.

Menlo has drawn a bye for this week end they meet the powerful Olympic Club the following Sunday. There is a strong possibility of the game being played at Dibble hospital if a playing field is available, otherwise the game will be played at Menlo Junior College.

Bob DeLuca, former captain of the team, is now out of the service and ready to play and Doyle may soon be in condition to don a suit.

Jack Galvin played a nice game at full against California and the club promises a warm afternoon on their return match later in the season.

High School In Menlo-E.P.A Within Two Or Three Years

According to a news release from the Sequoia high school this week, the proposed building program calls for a high school in Menlo within the next two or three years. A school which will eventually house 2,500 pupils with all the opportunities offered in a large modern high school, for which $350,000 plus $80,000 for a site will be set aside for the first unit.

As soon as the bond issue is passed, the Board of Trustees plan to employ an architect to draw plans and write specifications for the first unit of this plant.

The proposed unit will include the following buildings: academic building of 12 classrooms to provide for English, social studies, science, mathematics, language and art classes; two homemaking laboratories, a cafeteria, office, gymnasium for both boys and girls, small auditorium to accomodate 400 pupils and care for the auditorium activities and music. There will also be a general shop building.

As the enrollment increases, increases, more classrooms, an additional gymnasium, a music building, cafeteria, large auditorium and additional shop will be added.

An additional $350,000 has been set aside for a plant in the San Carlos-Belmont area. In order that all students of the district may have the opportunities offered by a large, modern high school while these plants are being constructed, it is proposed to add to the Sequoia plant so that pupils may have a wide selection of vocational and cultural electives in shops, homemaking, art, business and college preparatory fields.

The new plants in the Menlo Park-East Palo Alto area will start with freshmen and sophomore pupils the first year, the second year there will be three classes and the third year all classes will be included. Because of the anticipated rapid increase in population, it is expected that the enrollment in the proposed Menlo Park-East Palo Alto plant will grow very quickly.

Though the board has not been able to secure a satisfactory site up to the present time, two sites are in prospect and the board is lending every effort to secure one of these sites.

Be On The Alert Phoney Peddlers

Chief of Police Jack Yount announces that now that the war is over, solicitors are once again canvassing house-to-house in Menlo Park. Many of these solicitors are former service men and if they, or any other salesman carry a permit issued by the local police, their business is legitimate.

The police department issues to each solicitor a permit allowing him to call on Menlo Park residents and each salesman is supposed to present his personal permit on request.

Any salesman operating in Menlo Park, unable to produce one of these permits is violating a city ordinance and Yount requests that any resident phone police headquarters immediately if a salesman cannot produce his permit.

This service is for the protection of Menlo Park residents and Chief Yount asks that local people cooperate with his department.

Plans were also drawn for a pictorial folder describing Menlo Park and surrounding territory. The folder will be made up of pictures and a map showing all the outstanding places of interest.

A photograph pool is being started in an effort to find the most suitable pictures to feature in the folder. Anyone having pictures they feel are qualified, please bring them to the Recorder office. They will be taken care of and returned if they are not used. Pictures of beautiful homes, Allied Arts Guild, local churches, Searsville lake and other nearby resorts are especially desired. All prints should be at least 2x3 inches.

A membership drive will be started early next week to renew old members and sign up newcomers. There are approximately 250 business licenses issued by the city and it is the hope of the membership committee to make every one a member.

Your City's Business

By Charles P. Burgess

Skipping for a few weeks (until last year's earnings figures are available) the subject of water rates, we come to point 7 of the City Council's 14-project program. This is the provision of an adequate street lighting system for all parts of the city. Actually, the city government has no direct control over the street lights. The city is included in the Menlo Park Lighting District, whose governing body is the Board of Supervisors of San Mateo County. The recommendations of the City Council, however, are usually accepted with regard to matters inside the city limits. The Council has requested that a survey of street lights in the city limits be made, with the object of providing adequate illumination for those streets not now up to standard.

Another study which is to be made in connection with the survey, is the feasibility of the City taking over the street lights from the District. At present there is a tax rate of about 25 cents per $100 of assessed valuation levied against all property in the Lighting District for its support. The property inside our City limits accounts for about half of the assessed valuation of the District, so that is the cost of operating the lighting inside the City is less than half of the total cost of operating the District, our tax payers will save money by the City assuming control. No conclusions can be reached, however, until the facts are determined. The Pacific Gas and Electric Company, now the actual operator of the system, would continue so under City control, so that no change in overall operating cost would be caused by the transfer.

Letters to the Editor

Editor Menlo Park Recorder

Later-comers to our city of Menlo Park may not be impressed but those who have resided here for ten years or more regard our present efficient city administration as near to a miracle. This is not to disparage the many able and sincere men who have served us in the past. But divided opinion, lack of any well-thought out civic plan, and, not least, considerable apathy and indifference by a large share of the citizens themselves, acted to prevent any real progress. In spite of such obstacles, good was done. An outstanding example was the acquisition of extensive areas for parks and playgrounds. In contrast, our present city government has been in complete harmony, has set up and is operating under a long-range community planning policy, and has in two years brought about more worth-whole actual results than were even attempted in the preceeding twenty. Just a few high-lights will show the change. (1) Streets—For many years our streets were not in a good condition. Today they are fairly excellent. We have a regular Department of Streets, with a superintendent and working force, and some equipment. Our streets are being maintained, without any additional taxation, on a twenty-year plan. (2) Extension of city area—Through annexation of nearby sections we have increased the total area of the city by close to 40 per cent. These sections are rapidly building up as high-class residential areas and it is reasonable to assume that our population will eventually exceed that of our sister city of Palo Alto. (3) Creation of better business section—the recent extension of the business area up Santa Cruz Avenue and along the blocks each side of this avenue will at least provide a normal shopping area and gain for us a considerable portion of that trade which has been going, for very obvious reasons, to Palo Alto and elsewhere. (4) Establishment of a Civic Center. (5) Improved Zoning and Building codes and ordinances. (6) Better Police and Engineering Departments. All these gains and many others. The present Mayor, Charles P. Burgess, has presented a comprehensive plan for the city's future, it has been adopted by the City Council, and if carried out, should guarantee as in the years come a community comparable to the best in the State. The present City Council members are: Charles P. Burgess, Mayor; Wallace Brown, Lloyd Neumann, Dr. Robert Rhodes and Vernon Barker. All these men are now, or have been, engaged in responsible professional or business activities. They are capable and honest. And they are not paid for their civic duties. On the basis of their past records we will be fortunate indeed to retain their services and thus permit them to complete those programs they have so well begun. Finally due credit should be given to those public-spirited citizens who, as appointees of the present Council, have so well and faithfully served on the various Boards, such as the Planning Commission and to whose work we owe much of our long-range community policies.

$574,401 For County's Highways & Bridges

San Mateo county's highways and bridges program for the present fiscal year calls for an expenditure program of $574,401 to be spent by the county government alone, California Taxpayers' Association said today, making public its study of county highway budgets in California for the current year. This does not include federal money available under the special federal appropriation for county feeder roads, recently made available by congress.

The county's' highways and bridges program is to be financed $215,239 from the county's share of gasoline tax receipts, $75,000 from motor vehicle fees, $48,260 from a countywide property tax, $24,260 from miscellaneous federal, state, and county revenues, and $211,842 from cash balances.

CENTRAL CHAPTER A. G. C. ELECTS 1946 DIRECTORS

At the annual meeting held recently in San Francisco, members of the Central California Chapter of Associated General Contractors of America, Inc., elected directors for 1946.

Among those chosen was a Menlo Park man, Harold W. Smith of the Dinwiddie Construction Co.

Smith was unanimously elected vice president of the new board of directors at the February meeting of the group. The new officers are all well known men in the construction industry.

LAS LOMITAS UNIT

The card pary given last Friday night by Las Lomitas PTA was very successful in spite of bad weather.

During the evening refreshments were served. Much of the credit for the success goes to Mrs. Dean Cheney, who was chairman of arrangements for the party and her assistants, Mrs. Theresa Dowd, Mrs. Louis Rothenberger, and Mrs. John Vistica.

The party was given for the medical and dental fund of Las Lomitas PTA.

A.W.V.S.

We served 1500 more servicemen in the club so far this month than we did in January.

A visitor to the club this week remarked how pretty our cups and saucers in pale green and pastel shades were.

The boys are still talking about the wonderful time they had at the Valentine party we had at the club Thursday night It was a formal affair and the junior hostesses were beautiful in their lovely, colorful gowns.

Our place was decorated in St. Valentine motif with flowers and greens, red cut-out paper hearts on the walls and little heart plants in red pots. The plants were made with stems of spaghetti to which were attached little red paper hearts.

The buffet table in the snack bar, from which delightful refreshments were served, was decorated by Mrs. Dolores Frank who used quince blossoms and smilax twined along the edge of the table. A big Valentine was placed in front of the snack bar counter.

We are all so very grateful to Mrs. Lucy Orendorff who prepared the wonderful buffet supper for our party. She worked so hard and we appreciate her help.

Music for dancing was provided by a band from Dibble.

Thirty junior hostesses from Menlo Park, San Mateo and San Jose, looking like gayly colored flowers in their pretty formals were on hand all evening to see that the servicemen had a good time.

"Mom" Sterns seemed to have as much fun at the party as the boys did.
